EXHIBIT A

Excerpt of Copyright Code, 17 U.S.C. § 512(h)

Subpoena To Identify Infringer.—

(1) Request.— A copyright owner or a person authorized to act on the owner's behalf may request the clerk of any United States district court to issue a subpoena to a service provider for identification of an alleged infringer in accordance with this subsection.

(2) Contents of request.— The request may be made by filing with the clerk—

(A) a copy of a notification described in subsection (c)(3)(A);

(B) a proposed subpoena; and

(C) a sworn declaration to the effect that the purpose for which the subpoena is sought is to obtain the identity of an alleged infringer and that such information will only be used for the purpose of protecting rights under this title.

(3) Contents of subpoena.— The subpoena shall authorize and order the service provider receiving the notification and the subpoena to expeditiously disclose to the copyright owner or person authorized by the copyright owner information sufficient to identify the alleged infringer of the material described in the notification to the extent such information is available to the service provider.

(4) Basis for granting subpoena.— If the notification filed satisfies the provisions of subsection (c)(3)(A), the proposed subpoena is in proper form, and the accompanying declaration is properly executed, the clerk shall expeditiously issue and sign the proposed subpoena and return it to the requester for delivery to the service provider.

(5) Actions of service provider receiving subpoena.— Upon receipt of the issued subpoena, either accompanying or subsequent to the receipt of a notification described in subsection (c)(3)(A), the service provider shall expeditiously disclose to the copyright owner or person authorized by the copyright owner the information required by the subpoena, notwithstanding any other provision of law and regardless of whether the service provider responds to the notification.

(6) Rules applicable to subpoena.— Unless otherwise provided by this section or by applicable rules of the court, the procedure for issuance and delivery of the subpoena, and the remedies for noncompliance with the subpoena, shall be governed to the greatest extent practicable by those provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure governing the issuance, service, and enforcement of a subpoena duces tecum.

Re: Website: www.avg-soft.com
Notice of Copyright and Trademark Infringement

Dear Sir or Madam:

We are counsel for Grisoft, Inc. ("Grisoft"), which is a leading developer of software solutions targeted at protecting against Web-borne computer viruses.

We are writing regarding the website, www.avg-soft.com (the "Website"). The Website appears as a highly prominent, if not the first, Sponsored Link, when the query "AVG" is entered into MSN's search engine. Enclosed is a copy of a printout of the page from a query of MSN's site, done today, showing the Website in second position. The Website actively infringes Grisoft's copyrights and, coincidentally our client's trademarks by, inter alia, (1) distributing, without authorization, imperfect copies of Grisoft's AVG, registered copyright-protected, software, together with illegitimate, and inoperable, license key codes and (2) confusing the public into believing that there is identity, or some sort of affiliation, between the proponent of the Websites and Grisoft. On information and belief, the Websites also provide screenshots of Grisoft's proprietary software.

Grisoft owns all the copyrights (and trade secrets) and associated trademarks, in the computer programs which it distributes in the marketplace. These copyrights are valid and subsisting and have not been licensed for use, reproduction or distribution of any kind whatsoever to the proponent of the Website, which we are challenging via this letter.

Moreover, Grisoft and its affiliates are variously the owners of numerous trademark registrations for the term, "AVG," (the "Mark") including U.S. Registration No. 3,122,712, on the Mark, covering the goods and services set forth in the enclosed Appendix; CTM Registration No. 3893716, on the Mark; Czech Republic Registration No. 196208, on the Mark; Czech Republic Registration No. 195288, on the Mark and Design; Slovak Republic Registration No. 210618, on the Mark. The applicant for the United States registrations is our client's related company, Grisoft s.r.o. Co., Czech Republic, Lidicka 31 (c p 965) Brno Czech Republic 60200.

Grisoft's anti-virus software is a product of original authorship resulting from many years of programmer development effort and substantial expenditures of money. Likewise, Grisoft has invested considerable time, money and effort into advertising and promoting its products and related services under the AVG mark, both domestically and internationally. As a result, consumers have come to expect authentic, fully functioning products and services, in association with these marks.

The Website targeted for take-down in this letter has no rights in Grisoft's copyrights or in its trademarks and service marks. Nonetheless, the Website's proponent, with MSN's facilitation, is taking a "free ride" on our client's rights. On information and belief, the proponent of the Website is distributing -- for a fee -- Grisoft's AVG proprietary software. Further, the Website confuses the public into believing that there is a sponsorship or affiliation between the Website and Grisoft, much to the detriment of Grisoft's business and in blatant infringement of Grisoft's intellectual property rights.

Accordingly, pursuant to the U.S. Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DMCA"), this letter serves as formal notice of infringement in the event of legal proceedings. I refer you to 17 U.S.C. § 512(c) of the DMCA which provides that a service provider may be protected from liability in copyright if, upon notification of claimed infringement, the service provider "responds expeditiously to remove, or disable access to, the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity."

We hereby represent in good faith that Grisoft has never given permission or consent to any agent or representative of the owner or content-provider of the Website to offer copies of Grisoft's products and services or to give the appearance of doing so with the authority of Grisoft. We further make the good faith representation that the use of Grisoft's copyrighted and trademarked material on the Website is not otherwise permitted by law. Rather, our client believes that such illegal exploitation of Grisoft's copyrights and trademarks has been done "willfully and intentionally," within the meaning of the U.S. Copyright Law and in bad faith.

Grisoft has directed us to demand that you, as sponsoring link and other service provider to the Website, immediately remove all of its Sponsored Link postings from the MSN search engine and remove or disable all Internet access to the Website through the MSN search engine. This demand is made in compliance with the provisions of the DMCA, 17 U.S.C. § 512(c).

In addition, please be advised that we will be seeking on behalf of Grisoft, in a federal district court of requisite jurisdiction, a subpoena duces tecum directed to MSN, seeking the identity of the proponent of the Website. This subpoena shall conform to the requirements of the DMCA, 17 U.S.C. § 512(h). Please let me know whether MSN would be willing to accept service of such subpoena, without the necessity of our employing a process server.

May I kindly request that you provide me with assurance that you have complied with this demand to remove and disable, and a response concerning acceptance of the subpoena, before Thursday, December 13, 2007.

Under penalty of perjury, I aver that all of the information in this notice is accurate and that I am authorized so to act on behalf of Grisoft. Further, on behalf of Grisoft, I expressly reserve all of its rights, claims, actions, assertions and remedies, in law and equity, not only against the owner and content provider of the offending website, but also against your company and anyone associated with your company unless and until this matter can be resolved to Grisoft's satisfaction.

Sincerely,

Julia C. Mattis

Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), as amended on December 1, 2006:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling of designated electronically stored information, books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to producing any or all of the designated materials or inspection of the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect, copy, test, or sample the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production, inspection, copying, testing, or sampling. Such an order to compel shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection, copying, testing, or sampling commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance,

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA.

(1) (A) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(B) If a subpoena does not specify the form or forms for producing electronically stored information, a person responding to a subpoena must produce the information in a form or forms in which the person ordinarily maintains it or in a form or forms that are reasonably usable.

(C) A person responding to a subpoena need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) A person responding to a subpoena need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or to quash, the person from whom discovery is sought must show that the information sought is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) (A) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(B) If information is produced in response to a subpoena that is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT. Failure of any person without adequate excuse to obey a subpoena served upon that person may be deemed a contempt of the court from which the subpoena issued. An adequate cause for failure to obey exists when a subpoena purports to require a nonparty to attend or produce at a place not within the limits provided by clause (ii) of subparagraph (c)(3)(A).
